

Seeking Creative and Energetic Intern For Summer Associate Position

BCS is a small business seeking a graduate student who is interested in the field of corporate social responsibility, especially corporate-community engagement. Find out about BCS at www.BCSynergies.com.

Duties:

- Assist with research on corporate social responsibility, social impacts of extractive industry operations and other areas as needed.
- Conduct background research on companies, industries and other areas relevant to local context analysis.
- Assist with proposal development.
- Edit reports and other documents.

Qualifications:

- Experience or strong interest and some familiarity with oil, gas, mining or energy industries and their corporate social responsibility.
- Accurate research skills and excellent writing skills.
- Independent and able to take initiative without direct supervision. Professionalism, enterprising, ability to work collaboratively with colleagues in other locations via computer and phone.
- Work experience (or other international background experience) in a developing country.
- Strong interest in BCS's work and in an engagement-based approach to development.
- Expertise and high familiarity with use of internet and electronic databases for research.
- Course work or experience in qualitative analysis.
- Knowledge of or fluency in French, Spanish or Portuguese.
- Experience using participatory training or participatory appraisal techniques.

Rewards

- Be part of a small and growing business that is forging new paths in business-community engagement.
- BCS offers professional development opportunities through attendance at conferences and other practitioner meetings.
- If you have a complementary research interest, BCS will negotiate a way to link your research and our work.
- BCS will give you preference when paid employment opportunities arise.

- BCS provides a stipend of $1000. Please also apply to your career services office for stipend eligibility through your university's program.

Start and completion dates are negotiable, but roughly 12 to 15 weeks beginning June 1, 2005. If interested, please email CV and letter stating why you are right for this internship to Info@BCSynergies.com. Please reference Summer Associate in subject line. CVs without a letter will not be considered.